

For Immediate Release - Contact: Joel Snyder, Director, Audio Description Project
(202) 467-5083

American Council of the Blind’s Audio Description Project
Announces the 2018 “BADIE”* Awards
* Benefits of Audio Description In Education

WASHINGTON, February 5, 2018 - The American Council of the Blind (ACB) is proud to announce the winners of the 2018 BADIE Awards (the Benefits of Audio Description In Education), a “Listening Is Learning” initiative of the Council’s Audio Description Project (ADP) and the Described and Captioned Media Program (DCMP).

The winners of this year’s honors (all young people who are blind) are:

Grand Prize Winner: Townsend Stemple – West Virginia School for the Blind-Romney, WV -
Review of Moko: The Snow’s Fury and Healing With Animals

Senior Category (ages 16 to 21):

First Place – Michael Gast, South Dakota School for the Blind and Visually Impaired-Aberdeen, SD – Review of Daredevil

Second Place – Dezmond Ward, Nansemond River High School-Suffolk, VA – Review of The Angry Bird Movie

Third Place – Kenneth Jacoby, Nansemond River High School-Suffolk, VA – Review of Doctor Strange

Junior Category (ages 11 to 15):

First Place – Townsend Stemple, West Virginia School for the Blind-Romney, WV (see above)

Second Place – Audrey Mattingley, West Virginia School for the Blind-Romney, WV –
Review of The Dark, Dark House and The Week Before Christmas

Third Place – Isabella Patterson, West Virginia School for the Blind-Romney, WV –
Review of The Dark, Dark House and The Week Before Christmas

Sophomore Category (ages 7 to 10):

First Place – Shaelin Shakespeare, Western Pennsylvania School for Blind Children-Pittsburgh, PA – Review of The Magic School Bus and Inside Ralphie

Second Place – Triston Stemple, West Virginia School for the Blind-Romney, WV – Review of Moko: The Snow's Fury and ECO-Kids Explore: Wind Power

Third Place – Wyatt Kuncil, WV School for the Blind-Romney, WV – Review of Penguin Shuffle

Alternate Assessment Category *:

First Place – Ryant Vo, Nansemond River High School-Suffolk, VA – Review of Doctor Strange

Second Place – Hayden Miller, West Virginia School for the Blind-Romney, WV – Review of Penguin Shuffle

* The Alternate Assessment category refers to students whose participation in their general statewide assessment program (testing in Math, Science and Language Arts) is not appropriate, even with accommodations. Alternate Assessment student performance is evaluated at three levels of complexity. Student achievement is reported through performance levels described as emergent, achieved, and commended. Access Points are academic expectations written specifically for students with significant cognitive disabilities.

The premise of the BADIE program is simple: kids love movies. If a young person can't see or can't see well, audio description provides access to all the visual images of the movies that their sighted peers enjoy. Description benefits children who are blind and others who have learning disabilities and it has been shown to boost literacy for all children.

The BADIE program asked young people who are blind or have low vision to submit short reviews of any described movie.

"Audio Description uses words that are succinct, vivid, and imaginative to convey the visual image from television, film, DVDs, theater, museums and many other settings," stated Kim Charlson, president of the American Council of the Blind. "The young people honored with these awards not only appreciate the ability to enjoy films and television right along with their peers—description helps them and their sighted friends develop language skills through exposure to varied word choice, synonyms, metaphors and similes. I love audio description, and wish I'd had access to it when I was growing up!"

Additional information about ACB's Audio Description Project is available at:

www.acb.org/adp; more information about the Described and Captioned Media Program is at: www.dcmp.org.

About the American Council of the Blind

The American Council of the Blind is a national membership organization. Its members are blind, visually impaired, and fully sighted individuals who are concerned about the dignity and well-being of blind people throughout the nation.

Formed in 1961, the ACB is one of the largest organizations of blind people in the world, with more than 70 state and special-interest affiliates and a nationwide network of chapters and members spanning the globe.

For more information about the American Council of the Blind, contact: Eric Bridges, Executive Director, American Council of the Blind, 1703 N. Beauregard St., Suite 420 Alexandria, VA 22311; phone (202) 467-5081 or toll-free, 1-800-424-8666; or visit the web site, www.acb.org.